ABSTRACT

In the year 1990's financial sector reforms have changed the Indian capital markets into a dynamic and extensive in the context of world capital market. With the arrival of globalization in India accurate efforts are made in strengthening the investor assurance. Financial markets are very resourceful in increasing the stock market developments which exemplifies how stock market developments are capable to manage the risk increasing participants, and increasing the market capitalization. At present stock market developments have strengthened and these developments create linkages between global markets, increasing market liquidity and effectiveness. In India, the emergence and growth of stock market is relatively a recent phenomenon. Thus the present study is an attempt to analyze stock market developments in India, rules and regulation in relation to Indian capital market. It is an endeavor to demonstrate the growth and expansion Indian stock market developments from 1990 to 2018.

FINANCIAL LITERACY, FINANCIAL INCLUSION AND CUSTOMER PROTECTION: A CASE STUDY

ABSTRACT

This article knows about financial literacy, financial inclusion, and customer protection. Globally, the triad of financial literacy, financial inclusion, and customer protection has been recognized as intertwining threads in pursuit of financial stability. For any kind of stability, whether economic, financial, political or social, inclusive growth is an essential prerequisite. Inclusive growth, in turn, is largely driven by financial inclusion and an inclusive financial system. Financial literacy and financial inclusion are complementary to each other. For emerging market economics, ensuring adequate access to financial products and services is more important at this stage but financial literacy create demand for these products/services. In advanced economies, the access is not that important an issue. Thus, it is a global problem with global dimensions.

SIZE EFFECT ANOMALY IN INDIAN STOCK MARKET: TIME SERIES ANALYSIS

ABSTRACT

The study attempts to find out investment strategy based on size effect results in companies to outperform the market index. The study aims to find out whether the size effect anomaly is present in Indian stock market. The sample consists of companies listed in BSE 500 Index from the period of March 2002 to March 2014. Portfolios are constructed based on net sales and fixed assets. The monthly returns on all the securities are compared against the benchmark of Sensex monthly returns. Correlation and regression analysis are used as statistical tools for data analysis. The findings reflect the presence of abnormal returns for large stocks portfolio but its absence for small stocks portfolios. Therefore, there is absence of size effect in Indian stock market. The two main limitations are: 1. the study is carried out only for the period of thirteen years. 2. Only Sensex as benchmark is considered. The research paper is empirical in nature.

ABOUT THE JOURNAL

In this age of Commerce, Economics, Computer, I.T. & Management and cut throat competition, a group of intellectuals felt the need to have some platform, where young and budding managers and academicians could express their views and discuss the problems among their peers. This journal was conceived with this noble intention in view. This journal has been introduced to give an opportunity for expressing refined and innovative ideas in this field. It is our humble endeavour to provide a springboard to the upcoming specialists and give a chance to know about the latest in the sphere of research and knowledge. We have taken a small step and we hope that with the active co-operation of like-minded scholars, we shall be able to serve the society with our humble efforts.
