A STUDY ON INDIAN ECONOMY WITH SPECIAL REFERENCES WITH FOREIGN EXCHANGE RESERVES IN THE SPECIFIC PERIOD OF 2019-21

ABSTRACT

Traditionally, the political economy of India's economic expansion has piqued our interest. Higher and sustained economic growth has been the most reliable and time-tested strategy of raising living standards and even decreasing poverty around the world. Furthermore, because India is a functioning democracy, monetary policy in the country is frequently dictated by personal expediency, as political parties compete for populism when faced with improvements in social indicators such as literacy, infant mortality, and so on lagging behind increases in the rate of economic growth. The Indian economy contracted by 6.6% in 2020-21, compared to an earlier estimate of a 6.3% decline, indicating that the COVID-19 pandemic strike economy did not perform as terribly as it appeared at first. According to provisional estimates on the market since May 2021, the GROSS DOMESTIC PRODUCT decreased by 7.3% in 2020-21 due to the breakout of COVID-19 and the subsequent state-wide lockdown to limit the disease. "Real GDP or GROSS DOMESTIC PRODUCT at constant (2011-12) prices for the years 2020-21 and 2019-20 stands at Rs 135. 49 lakh crore and Rs 145. 18 lakh crores, respectively, showing an anxiety of 6.6% in 2020-21 and 3.7% in 2019-20," the National Record Office said in the revised national consideration data released on Monday. With the COVID-19 outbreak, it has been difficult to get the international economic climate up to speed in the previous couple of years. Repeated outbreaks of virus, supply-chain disruptions, and, most recently, water removal have made policymaking extremely difficult. In response to these concerns, the Indian government quickly implemented a plethora of safety-net programmes aimed at mitigating the impact on disadvantaged sections of society and the corporate sector. Therefore, this paper focuses on factors affecting foreign exchange, forex markets and it's trading in India.

ABOUT THE JOURNAL

In this age of Commerce, Economics, Computer, I.T. & Management and cut throat competition, a group of intellectuals felt the need to have some platform, where young and budding managers and academicians could express their views and discuss the problems among their peers. This journal was conceived with this noble intention in view. This journal has been introduced to give an opportunity for expressing refined and innovative ideas in this field. It is our humble endeavour to provide a springboard to the upcoming specialists and give a chance to know about the latest in the sphere of research and knowledge. We have taken a small step and we hope that with the active co-operation of like-minded scholars, we shall be able to serve the society with our humble efforts.
